

HUNDRED BILLION DOLLAR NATIONAL DEBT IN '43 SEEN

Senate Passes Bill to Raise Limit to 65 Billions at Once

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Congressional leaders today forecast speedy house concurrence in senate amendments to the $65,000,000,000 federal debt limit bill, making it possible to send the measure to the president early next week.

The bill, major features of which already had been approved by the house, was passed by the senate yesterday on a voice vote after adoption of minor amendments. The present debt limit is $45,000,000,000 plus a $4,000,000,000 authorization for defense borrowing and $4,000,000,000 of other authorizations for use only in special circumstances.

The senate action came only after some members of both major parties had called for new taxes to finance the defense program and Senator Byrd (D-Va.) had predicted that a $100,000,000,000 federal debt could be expected if the current emergency continued.

Byrd predicted that by July 1, 1943, or within the ensuing year the "over-all" debt would mount to $100,000,000,000. He urged drastic cuts in non-defense expenditures.

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) suggested that the senate be "realistic" and raise the limit to $100,000,000,000 at once.

The debate produced discussion as to the possible cost of aid to Britain, and Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said it was his "guess" that the cost would be about $5,000,000,000 in the first year. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) estimated that the treasury would have $7,000,000,000 available for such aid in the year beginning July 1.

Would Ask War Aims
Meanwhile senate opponents of the administration's British aid bill were reported to be drafting an amendment which would require Britain to state her "peace terms" before receiving any assistance from the United States under the proposed lend-lease program.

The opposition group, led by Senator Wheeler, was said to be in general agreement on the idea that Britain should say what sort of peace she would make if, with American help, she defeated the axis powers.

Numerous technical difficulties were involved in writing the provision, and even some oppositionists said it might prove unworkable. As tentatively drawn, it would call on the state department to ascertain Britain's peace terms before any American-made war equipment could be released to her.

The amendment was one of about half a dozen being prepared by an opposition group of nearly a score of senators, who held a strategy meeting late yesterday in the office of Senator Johnson (R-Calif.). Apparently convinced they could not defeat the British aid bill, they devoted their efforts to proposals for restrictions.

Administration leaders were working with equal persistence to unify their ranks against changes which they would consider undesirable in the legislation.

With debate on the measure starting Monday—the senate was in recess today—Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the foreign relations committee told reporters the committee would not offer any amendments to the bill in addition to those it made earlier this week before recommending the legislation for passage.

Penniless Man Finds Philadelphians Kind

Philadelphia, Feb. 15.—(AP)—A 26-year-old Idaho potato farmer, set out for home today with his year-old son, who was brought here for removal of a peanut from a lung.

"People certainly have been good to me," said Lloyd as he boarded a plane, cradling Alma, Jr., in his arms.

Prompted by a drive started by a Philadelphia policeman, friends contributed funds for the return of Lloyd and the child to Salt Lake City by plane and then to their home at Soda Springs, Idaho. The father had disclosed he was penniless.

"Everything has been fixed up fine for me," said Lloyd.

Carpet Spread for Guest-Dock to House

When General Lafayette, French soldier and statesman, toured the United States in 1825 he came to Illinois at the invitation of the general assembly. While in the state he visited Kaskaskia and Shawneetown only, according to the Illinois Writers' Project, W. P. A.

During the Kaskaskia ceremonies, the address of welcome was given by Governor Edward Coles, who seven years before had met the famous patriot in Paris. In the company of the governor, he continued on to Shawneetown by boat. Carpeting was laid from the landing to the mansion which served as his headquarters. This mansion was also the scene of a great banquet at which the general was the guest of honor.

CAUSE OF FATAL DUQUOIN BLAST STILL UNKNOWN

Five Investigations, One by FBI, Under Way There Today

DuQuoin, Ill., Feb. 15.—(AP)—At least five separate investigations were under way today in the explosion that claimed the lives of seven employees of the United Electric Coal Companies' liquid oxygen plant at the Fidelity mine near this city yesterday.

But Fred Huff, superintendent of the mine, said the cause of the blast was as much a mystery as it was Friday. Besides the company's investigation, others were being conducted by Robert M. Medill, state director of mines and minerals, by Coroner W. E. Gladson and by insurance officials.

In addition it was known that agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation had entered the case but secrecy enveloped their activities.

All seven victims were instantly killed and there were no injured survivors to aid the investigators. Some of the men were unloading lamp black cartridges from a freight car on a siding a few feet from the plant. Others were working in the plant where the cartridges are soaked with liquid oxygen, converting them into explosives used in blasting coal and rock. Neither the lamp black nor the liquid oxygen is explosive by itself.

Equipment Irreplaceable
So far the investigation has not disclosed, Huff said, whether the explosion occurred in the freight car which arrived Wednesday night from Samford, Tex., or in the plant. Both the car and the plant, a two story frame building, were demolished.

Huff said the property damage was "pretty close to $200,000". He disclosed that much of the plant equipment was manufactured in Germany and can not be replaced at this time because of the war.

Meantime the mine's 275 employees were idle today as survivors of the victims prepared to bury the dead. Separate funerals tentatively are planned for all seven tomorrow.

Coroner Gladson empaneled a coroner's jury to investigate the deaths and announced an inquest probably will be held next week.

British Landscape Is Being Changed

New York, Feb. 15.—(AP)—England is taking to scrambling her topography in efforts to confuse nazi aerial navigators.

Harvey Klemmer, who for three years has been an attaché at the American embassy in London, said today that he knew of one instance where the course of a stream was changed to foil fliers. Small lakes also have been drained.

England's defense measures, he said, have changed the landscape more than has the nazi assault. In southern and southeastern England, many of the ancient oaks are being felled to give gunners a clear field of action.

He said 2,000 Canadian lumberjacks are in England cutting down trees for lumber use in Britain's war effort. Some of the tank trap ditches extend entirely across the country; and concrete block

Mayor H. L. Krughoff, incumbent mayor, filed his petition of candidacy for reelection on the Progressive ticket yesterday and his daughter, Mrs. Ada L. Felsman, became a candidate for city clerk on the Citizen's ticket.

Dixon Chamber of Commerce Joins Campaign to Better Lincoln Highway

Besides the questions involved in the straightening of the roads the matter of making the markings read "Optional 50" will be discussed.

If some satisfactory settlement of the location of the road at Ashton and Rochelle can be reached, there is a strong probability that this improvement can be placed under way this year.

The straightening of the entire road is of vital interest inasmuch as it can be shown that mileage can be saved in crossing the state, which will undoubtedly divert much traffic this way. It has been ascertained that by using a shorter route to Chicago, such as this will be, the average daily saving on gasoline consumption alone would be close to $300 a day.

Frank Leahy Is Named Coach at Notre Dame U.

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Notre Dame looks once again to a disciple of the immortal Knute Rockne to preserve its place in the football sun.

Frank Leahy, 32-year-old Boston College coach and a cog in one of Rockne's greatest grid teams, went back to his alma mater today as head coach and athletic director.

The appointment of Leahy was announced last night and he will sign a contract today in the office of the Rev. Hugh O'Donnell, C. S. C., president.

Leahy, a native of Winner, South Dakota, succeeds Elmer Layden, who ended his seven-year regime 12 days ago when he resigned to become commissioner of the National Pro Football League at $20,000 a year. Leahy intimated that he was making a financial sacrifice in taking the Notre Dame job, but added he thought it was his "duty" to return to his alma mater. Layden's salary at Notre Dame was about $10,000.

To Bring His Assistants
Leahy will bring his present assistants to Notre Dame. They are Ed McKeever, backfield coach; John Druze, end coach, and Joe McArdle, line coach.

Leahy's last two years under Rockne found the fighting Irish atop football's pinnacle. The new coach played tackle on the 1929 and 1930 teams which went through 19 games without a defeat, winning two national championships in a row. The Irish have not enjoyed an undefeated season since.

Leahy graduated in 1931 and took a job that fell as line coach at Georgetown. The next year he went to Michigan State as aid to Jimmy Crowley and moved on to Fordham when the latter accepted the head coachship there in 1933. Leahy received widespread notice in 1936 as the builder of Fordham's famous line, "seven blocks of granite".

LYNCH ELECTED PRESIDENT LEE TEACHERS ASSN.

300 Instructors Attend Annual Institute in Dixon Yesterday

Floyd W. Lynch, principal of the South Central school, Dixon, is the new president of the Lee County Teachers Association, as a result of action taken at Friday's institute, held in the Dixon high school auditorium and attended by about 300 pedagogs from about the county. Other officials elected for the ensuing year, were: J. M. Thompson, superintendent of Steward schools, vice president; Glenn H. Obourn, Ashton, secretary-treasurer; J. C. Bilderback, Ashton, Delores Redebaugh, Dixon and Laverne Edwards, Franklin Grove members of the executive committee.

Outstanding feature of the institute was an address by William D. Sattiel, Chicago attorney and lecturer, who said among other things that "democracy in America cannot hope to survive in the present world crisis unless we are able to create an appreciation of America and its history".

"We can never help America unless we create in our minds what America means and what it stands for," Sattiel said. "We should organize ourselves into 'Appreciate America, Inc.'"

Sattiel warned that forces from within are seriously threatening democracy. He told of extensive propaganda work being carried on in this country by Germany and Italy through the radio and literature, which is spreading class hatred and religious intolerance, pitting one group against another.

"The dictators believe that the democratic nations are unaware of these dangers and are unable to cope with them successfully", he said.

"To save democracy, America must fight not only the fifth columnists but those who think along fascist lines, putting power and wealth above human freedom. We cannot save America by minding our own business. Our task is not only to keep America out of Europe but to keep Europe out of America," he declared.

In closing, Sattiel urged school teachers to inspire youths to take up public life. "We need educated men to assume the tasks of government if true democracy is to survive," he said.

In his talk this morning on "The Youth Movement in America and Europe," Sattiel said that the breakdown of Germany and the rise of nazism was brought about through propaganda instilled into defenseless youths. "Youths is the spearhead of propaganda in all dictator nations," Sattiel warned.

Praising the educational system in America, Sattiel appealed to all teachers to teach a fanatic love for country, and through education, to develop an understanding of the meaning of America.

Hankering

Rising Sun, Ind., Feb. 15.—(AP)—This is about a dog who went to see his master in the army—because his master was pining for him.

Capt. Arthur F. Warren, New York City nose and throat specialist, joined the 102d observation squadron at Fort McClellan, Alabama.

Pretty soon he got a hankering to see his year-old English bulldog, Dan, whom he had left with his mother, Mrs. Abby M. Warren, in Rising Sun.

So he telephoned her to send the dog to him right away.

Yesterday she had a friend take Dan in an automobile to Cincinnati.

Two of Captain Warren's acquaintance aviators, were going to fly him from there to Alabama.

Parachutist - Saboteurs Reported in Hiding in Southern Part of Italy

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Diplomatic and military authorities in London are expressing concern over the possibility that the axis is preparing simultaneous offensives at numerous points in Europe and in the Far East as well.

The blows envisaged would be against England, against Gibraltar through Spain, against Suez through the Balkans and Turkey, against Greece through Yugoslavia and Bulgaria, and against Singapore and the Dutch East Indies through the offices of the Japanese.

The question immediately arises as to the practicability of such widespread operations if a quick victory is the aim. Last night I spoke at a meeting of the Elks at Auburn, N. Y., on the war and a member of the audience raised this pertinent question:

Could Herr Hitler make an all-out assault on Britain itself, and at the same time successfully carry out offensives in the Balkans and at Mediterranean points? There was more to this question, but the substance of it was whether the nazi fuhrer would find his striking power spread out too thin. That is a highly important point and one which must be occupying the councils of the Germans.

So far as concerns the Far East, the chief energy Hitler needs to expend there is diplomatic, to persuade the Japanese to join the fray. That he is trying to persuade Tokyo to make this momentous move, there is small doubt. As I have previously pointed out in this column, Nippon is proceeding cautiously and isn't likely to strike unless she is absolutely convinced that Germany already has Britain defeated or close to it.

As regards the European theatre, the military burden at this juncture must fall chiefly on Germany. Italy is too badly hurt both at home and in the military field to be of much assistance.

There certainly is a very large question as to whether Germany could wage successful offensives on two or more fronts simultaneously, that is, blows which could knock Britain and her allies out. When we talk about great offensives we have to deal with intensive operations of movement which involve the expenditure of vast amounts of materials.

Germany has the men without doubt. But there is a widespread feeling among military experts that Hitler will need every ounce of his strength for his blitzkrieg against the British isles.

The nazi air force, despite its extreme exertion, thus far has failed to crack the British egg, and England daily is growing stronger. Hitler cannot spare any great amount of air power from its channel front if he intends to pursue his projected invasion, and there is every indication that, invasion or no invasion, he doesn't intend to relax his assault there.

There is another and equally important aspect to this situation. I heard a high British army officer say the other day that while Hitler had considerable supplies of aviation gas on hand, he didn't have enough to enable him to wage war both in the air and on land at the same time.

The point is that Germany's highly mechanized land forces use divers of gasoline when in operation. The air force also consumes vast quantities. Herr Hitler may have it either one way or the other, but not both ways at the same time.

British Ministry of Information Drops Barrest of Hints

(By The Associated Press)

The barrest of hints that some British parachutist-saboteurs still are hiding somewhere on the foot of the Italian boot, seeking a chance to strike a crippling home front blow at Britain's fascist foe, emanated today from the British Ministry of Information.

The ministry, chary of giving details at present, said uniformed troopers of unspecified number had been dropped recently in southern Italy with instructions "to demolish certain objectives connected with ports in that area" and that "some of the men have not returned to their base."

The Italians, picturing communications, power plants and a big water supply system as the potential objectives of the troopers, said yesterday that all were captured after short-lived resistance when they floated down on the night of February 10-11 before they floated down on the night of February 10-11 before they could "cause the serious damage which they intended" with the dynamite they carried.

What the "base" of the British troopers might be was a mystery.

Bomb Western Germany

The British also announced that the R. A. F. had fired oil installations and port works at Gelsenkirchen and the inland port of Duisburg-Ruhrort in western Germany last night. Ostend, Belgium, was hammered again. In Berlin, an authorized German spokesman said the British flew over 22 communities, but attacked only one of them intensively.

Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic of Yugoslavia and Foreign Minister Aleksandar Cincar-Markovic returned to Belgrade from Germany, where yesterday they held a three-hour conference with Adolf Hitler. They went immediately to report to Prince Paul, the regent.

Both men refused to make a statement, but sources close to the premier earlier indicated that Yugoslavia probably would adopt a course more in accord with German desires.

Authorized German commentators in Berlin said relations between Germany and Yugoslavia were "most cordial," but there were no indications whether there had been negotiations to prepare the way for Yugoslavia's signing of the tripartite pact of Germany, Italy and Japan.

In Belgrade, Yugoslavia was described in informed circles as a nation driven into a corner by Bulgaria's reported willingness to accede to German pressure for troop passage and by Russia's "hands off" policy in the Balkans.

DeLuxe Cleaners On First Street Are Remodeling

Mike Lazaris, owner of the DeLuxe Cleaners on First street, informed us the other day that he was going to have the "best cleaning establishment west of Chicago." And, we're inclined to believe him after looking over the remodeling activities that are going on around his place.

According to his plans, the building will have a completely new brick front. Naturally, since he wanted the best he came to us for those famous STREATOR bricks that we've been recommending and selling for years. Along with this new modernistic front, he plans to install new fixtures, and do a complete painting job on the inside.

We'll report on the looks of things when the job is finished, but in the meantime, if you happen to pass by, just take a look at those bricks and you'll readily see why we've called your attention to them.

Still Caught in the Draft? "Conditioning" Will Fit It

"Window conditioning" is the oldest form of home insulation, for the greatest source of drafts and "leakage" about a house is around the windows. With your windows properly conditioned, you can save fuel, reduce doctor bills, enjoy more even temperatures and greater comfort. Let us give you FREE ESTIMATES on a thorough window-conditioning treatment of your house. . . . Call 57 today. . . . Don't put it off, just because of these few spring-like days we've been having. . . . Remember, there's at least two more months of cold weather coming. So, if you've been sitting in a draft, unless you do some "window conditioning" you'll be in the same predicament for at least a couple months or more.

KEG O' NAILS

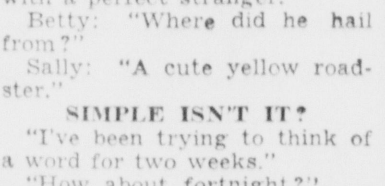

HAVE YOU HEARD? Have you heard about the cross-eyed teacher who couldn't control her pupils?

BEING OPEN-MINDED! There was an old maid that insisted that her mama cat never leave the house at nights. This winter she took a southern cruise and wrote home, "I'm having more darn fun . . . met a swell gentleman on the boat . . . P. S.: Let the cat out to-night."

SAME OLD STORY Sally: "I was out last night with a perfect stranger." Betty: "Where did he hail from?" Sally: "A cute yellow roadster."

SIMPLE ISN'T IT? "I've been trying to think of a word for two weeks."

"How about fortnight?"

Miss Helen Ganz Becomes Bride of Lloyd B. Passow

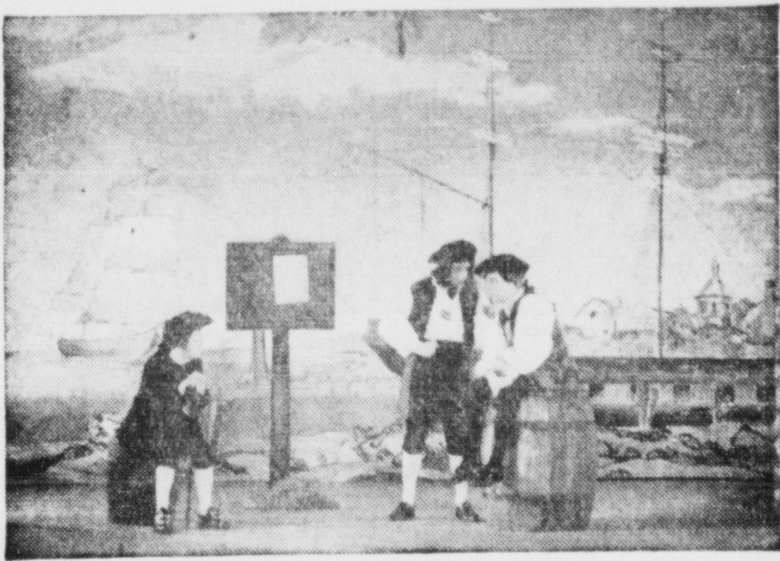

Miss Helen M. Ganz, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ganz of near Compton, became the bride of Lloyd B. Passow, son of Mrs. William Passow of near Leland, in nuptial vows solemnized at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Brooklyn Township Lutheran church, south of Compton. The Rev. L. J. gown of white moire taffeta with full skirt of tulle, short, puffed sleeves, and a large bow in back. Her veil of illusion net was bordered in Spanish lace, and fell from a tiara of seed pearls, with clusters of orange blossoms at each side. White roses, freesia and ferns formed her bridal bouquet.

Her sister, as bridesmaid, was attired in pink silk taffeta, designed with a sweetheart neckline and puffed sleeves. The full, floor-length skirt was trimmed with a cash and bow. Tiny bows of pink velvet trimmed the bodice of her dress, and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations, sweetpeas, and ferns, with a white carnation in her hair.

Miss Feik, the soloist, was dressed in aqua net with a jacket of aqua over pink. Sweetpeas formed her shoulder corsage, and in her hair was a white carnation.

Both Mrs. Ganz and the bridegroom's mother were attired in soldier blue with corsages of pink sweetpeas. Ushers were Oscar E. Gehardt of Compton, cousin of the bride, and Herbert Hazemann of Leland, cousin of the groom.

A reception for 70 guests was held in the church parlors, following the ceremony. Pink and white icing decorated the three-tiered cake. Bowls of pink snapdragons and white carnations were used on the table, where Marian Harp of Chicago, Gladys Matheson of Compton, Sophia Passow of Somonauk, Henrietta Poltsch, Lois Feik, and Minnie Schlesinger of Mendota assisted with the serving.

The bride formerly attended Compton high school. The bridegroom attended Leland high school, and Wartburg college in Waverly, Iowa. After their return from a wedding trip through the south and east, the couple will be at home, March 1, on Mrs. Bastain's farm, northwest of Sheridan.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and repudiated by those who suppose that the apoplexy and confidence of the people to surmount and render their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Riding in Two Directions

Newspapers the other day contained two headlines indicating that the governments of the United States and Great Britain are riding in different directions in their treatment of soviet Russia. One headline states that the British government suppressed the Daily Worker, a Red sheet published in England, on the grounds that it opposed the war. Another caption says the United States government has lifted its "moral embargo" on shipment of airplanes to Russia.

The British can't afford to have the subversive Daily Worker obstructing the war effort and fomenting strikes and the like, but perhaps they can afford to have American-made airplanes, sold by Russia to Germany, dropping bombs on London.

It may be supposed that our own administration got some sort of promise from the Reds that such Yankee planes as they buy will not be turned over to Germany, but that promise wouldn't mean much if the Reds find it desirable to sell them to Hitler. Herr Stalin is the world's No. 1 opportunist.

The worst angle, however, is that soviet Russia again is accepted as respectable, a country to be trusted with American airplanes. The Finnish war has blown over. Uncle Sam has forgotten it. Seizure of Bessarabia and the realms of Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia are now of no consequence. The "moral" embargo is lifted. If there is another embargo prior to further grabs by Russia, it will be an embargo of necessity, but not one of morality.

The British seem to have done with appeasement. The United States, which tried it with Italy and failed, is now engaged in appeasing Stalin.

Indeed, the moral side of the question probably is all that need be considered, except that Russia may get a few "pattern" airplanes from which to copy. Tied up as we are with orders from England and for the United States air forces, it is not likely that we shall build more factories to accommodate the Russian trade.

Educational Backfire

Sometimes, when a fire is sweeping a wood or a prairie, the best way to fight it is to start a backfire. In the attack now being made by organized propaganda machines on American institutions, government, democratic principles, and outlook, the best defense is such a backfire.

The public forum, the discussion or study group, these are the front on which J. W. Studebaker, U. S. Commissioner of Education, wants to see this backfire kindled. His Office of Education in Washington has prepared a complete set of programs and agenda for formation and conduct of such groups. They are encouraging their formation all over the country, to bring forcibly and definitely to the American people their stake in the events now shaking the world.

Now, more than ever, people cannot afford to stop learning just because formal school days are over. Enlightenment is today, as always, the best defense of free government.

The Boy Grew Older

In general, we are all familiar with the fact that there are more older people and fewer young people all the time. That's because fewer babies are born and fewer people die.

The 1940 census throws new and clear light on the problem. In 1930 the median age of all persons in the country was 26.4 years. Last year it was 28.9 years. That lusty youngster, the American people, had grown 2.5 years older. The age-group over-65 had added 2,322,401 people in the decade.

So, it seems, we not only live faster, but longer. Which means that we ought to be growing wiser, too.

The problem of perfecting the democratic machinery for the conduct of business is to perfect machinery through which the several parties can discuss their interests and see what the counterclaims are.—Dr. Erwin C. Nourse, Brookings Institute.

It would be impossible for the heart of an empire to be placed where its beating could be interfered with. The Empire would never move to Canada. It would disappear first.—Bernard K. Sandwell, Canadian editor.

One of the surest facts of the social science is that the power to tax is the power to destroy, but half of our citizens think that this is false.—Dr. E. L. Thorndike in the N. Y. Sun.

In Lincoln, Neb., drunken driving arrest cards are marked dizzy, devilish, dazed or dead drunk. "Dumb" would be appropriate on all of them.

We accept no government but democracy, and I cannot stress that fact too strongly.—Rodolfo Michels, new ambassador from Chile.

A business, like a horse, grows old.—Thurman W. Arnold, chief of the Anti-Trust Division, Department of Justice.

It's about time that German propaganda about her industrial achievements be debunked.—William O'Neil, president, General Tire.

The Battleship 'Maine'

By S. M. HINDS, Historian, William E. Baldwin Camp No. 23, United Spanish War Veterans, Dixon, Ill.

Forty-three years ago, February 15, 1898, occurred the tragedy of the Battleship "Maine" in the harbor of Havana, Cuba, which electrified the peoples of the world with horror and indignation. In the United States, amidst the cries for just vengeance could be heard the sobs of anguish and distress from the lips of bereaved parents, wives and sweethearts. The thunder of a nation's resentment filled the air, while millions demanded that full punishment should be meted out to those guilty of this wholesale murder. It was at 9:40 P. M. of February 15, 1898, terrific explosion was heard, the Battleship "Maine" which had so proudly been riding at anchor, was shattered, the heavy waves of the inky blue waters swept over her, and she went to the bottom so quickly that 260 officers and men went down with her while at their posts of duty.

"Once I had a sweetheart,
Noble, brave and true;
Fearless as the sunrise,
Gentle as the dew.

We had loved and waited,
And had named the day;
We had pledged to wed each other,
In the month of May.

Out on the high seas he sailed,
Under the red, white and blue;
Faithful to home and to country,
Faithful to captain and crew.

Anchored at Havana,
On the Cuban shore;
Conscious of no danger,
Dreaming love days o'er.

Then came the death dealing blow,
Wrecking the vessel in twain;
Down went my sweetheart to death,
Down with the gallant ship "Maine."

The gallant dead of the ill-fated vessel did not die in vain. Subsequent events following in rapid succession soon sounded the death knell of Spanish tyranny in the western hemisphere and the Orient.

"Come from the four winds,
Oh, breathe, and breathe upon
These slain of the Battleship
"Maine", that they may live;
That the memory of their sacrifice and that the national spirit and ideals resulting shall be cherished in the hearts of the American people forever."

Whatever the cause, of this snocking tragedy, it was a deciding factor in giving the armed forces of the United States the patriotic privilege of engaging in a war for freedom and humanity, the results of which to the nation, to millions of cruelly oppressed people and to the world at large have been and will be increasingly continue to be a glorious blessing.

Not since 1847 and 1848 had the United States been forced to measure strength with a foreign foe. Not since the Mexican war had it been necessary to pit the courage and military ability of the United States soldier and sailor against those of a foreign power. It remained for Spain to arouse the ire and just resentment of "Uncle Sam" and bring on a conflict which, for sharp and decisive action, cannot be paralleled in the history of nations.

On April 24, 1898, Spain formally declared that a state of war existed with the United States, and on the following day, April 25, 1898, the United States formally declared war against Spain and President McKinley immediately called for 125,000 volunteers, followed shortly by another call for 75,000 men. The third call for volunteers during the Spanish war period was for the recruiting of twenty-five volunteers regiments to serve in the Philippines. In addition to these, the naval militia of the various states was mustered into the Federal service and the regular army recruited to war strength.

The results of this conflict are a matter of history. American troops fought and campaigned in Cuba, Puerto Rico and the Philippines. Sectional lines were obliterated as men who had severed in the Union army in the war between the states, fought side by side with those who had worn the Confederate gray.

The brilliant achievements of the American Navy resulted in complete annihilation or surrender of the enemy fleets, and as a result of the glorious victories won by our forces, this nation was advanced from a third class power to that of the first class, and since that time has maintained its dignity and proper place among the nations of the world. Spain was recognized one of the great world powers. How many remember the days forty-three years ago when the entire Atlantic and Gulf coasts were so thoroughly frightened by fear of an invasion by the Spaniards, or at least a bombardment from the Spanish fleet? Those were the days when the banks of the large cities of the east coast were shipping their money to interior points for safety. However, such fears were unwarranted, for the armed forces of the nation very capably defended our shores.

"When you heard your country
calling
Illinois, Illinois,
When the shot and shell were falling
Illinois, Illinois,
There were none more brave than you
Illinois, Illinois."

Through her patriotic Governor, John R. Tanner, Illinois was the first of all the Union to respond to the President's call for volunteers. The state furnished nine regiments of infantry, one regiment of cavalry and a battery of artillery.

Disease was rampant and modern sanitation in its infancy, wherefore the camps of '98 were scarcely less lethal than the battlefields and the trenches. The 1st Illinois regiment suffered heavy casualties in the Santiago campaign, losing nearly one hundred of their number by disease alone.

December 31, 1940, 156,624 veterans of this conflict were on the pension rolls, but their ranks are thinning rapidly, as they pass away at the rate of 500 to 600 a month.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Feb. 14 — If some twenty-five bewitched, bothered and bewildered business men are seen groping through Pittsburgh Saturday they will be the leading scrap iron dealers of the country trying to find out what to do about prices.

It seems Leon Henderson, the price-cudgel wielder of the Defense Commission, effected a little leveling of the base price of this most vital of defense materials a few weeks ago. He did it indirectly and effectively by inducing the railroads, largest sellers of scrap, to take no more or less than about $20 a ton. The industry naturally fell in line with this requirement.

But last week in Henderson's absence, his associates here suggested the scrap dealers freeze the regional price differentials in all sections of the country by agreement among themselves to stop—the Henderson group says—some isolated throat-cutting. This sounded a little like an official suggestion to violate the anti-trust law. The scrap dealers met confidentially here last Friday, decided to ask their main buyers, the steel companies, if they would cooperate in enforcement. The Steel Institute informed them no steel companies would even be seen talking to them because such a conversation would immediately make them co-conspirators in restraint of trade.

No promise of immunity by Attorney General Jackson would help. Next week Francis Biddle might be attorney general with a different opinion. Even so there was the experience of the oil men who did something like that for Interior Secretary Ickes, and then were indicted by another department of government and convicted.

If you know what the scrap dealers should do, you may wire them in Pittsburgh Saturday. They were scheduled to meet there to decide whether they would prefer to brave the anti-trust devils or the deep blue sea of refusal to follow the Defense Commission.

The British sounded as if someone had spat in their eye by suggesting they might accept an armistice with Mussolini.

Italy, disempowered in war, is far more valuable to the British cause than Italy at peace. Their people here have let our officials understand peace with the nether dictator is impossible, and why.

Only terms they will consider from Rome would require complete surrender of all Italian air and naval units as well as the army in Albania. These would constitute the minimum requirements. The maximum would be British occupation of all Italian airfields and military points of vantage.

As Britain could not require less and Hitler would not let Mussolini give so much, peace in the Mediterranean seems as far away today as it ever was.

Hitler's feints and thrusts all around the rim of continental Europe have baffled the British and our people as much as the news-reader—and are so intended.

The Franco meeting with Mussolini was a Hitler devised stunt to rouse British fears for Gibraltar. The air occupation of Bulgaria was another to threaten the unprotected right flank of the Greeks. On their face they seemed fakes, but no one could be sure. The Bulgarian mountain passes will not be free of snow for thirty days, but in Norway Hitler moved troops freely upon roads the Norwegians considered impassable (and left undefended) for the same reason.

Only this sure is that Germany will have to make a thrust in the spring somewhere. Her predicament requires it.

German communiques have been murmuring softly of concentrated bombings of British airfields, a move which could be the first sign of invasion. They started in on those fields about two weeks ago and Wednesday claimed the destruction of eleven.

But this too has aspects of faking. British airfields are scattered all over England in every pasture. They have an efficient engineering corps with the sole duty of repairing runway damage. Gravel and cement are piled handily at every large field, and as soon as the attack is over, the engineering branch starts repair work which seems to make the fields usable within twenty-four hours after their "destruction".

When the real prelude assault on English fields begins, it will not be like those which have occurred so far. The movement will necessarily be on such a grand scale that everyone will know it and recognize it for what it is.

EMIL KRUG

(Contributed)

Emil Krug was born July 7th, 1868 in Alsace-Lorraine, the son of Frederick Krug and his wife Sofia, nee Yost. In infancy he was baptized in the name of the Triune God, and later was confirmed in this faith, to which he remained faithful unto the end.

He came to the United States in the year 1892 and in August, 1894 he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Litt. To this union there were born three children, two daughters and one son. His wife and son preceded him in death in the year 1898.

Mr. Krug was employed by the Borden Milk Company for nearly 45 years, about 30 years here in Dixon, and was later transferred to Modesto, California, where he spent 10 years. For the past three years he made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Alice Reed in Sullivan, Ill.

Mr. Krug was a charter and active member of our congregation, and always, until the end, was interested in its welfare. He will long be remembered.

On Saturday, Feb. 8, at 8:15 a. m. he quietly fell asleep in the Lord after a last illness of about one week, at the age of 72 years, seven months and one day.

He leaves to mourn his departure his two daughters, Miss Leona Krug of Dinuba, Calif. and Mrs. Alice Reed of Sullivan, Ill.; two brothers, August of Dixon and Charles of Clinton, Iowa; one sister, Mrs. Louisa Dietz of Mackinaw, Ill.; one grandson, Robert Reed of Sullivan; nieces and nephews, and a host of friends.

YESTERDAY: April decides to pose as her sister for one day, plans a picnic with Kent. But hardly are they underway and her courage begins to fail. She stops the car.

LAST PERFECT MINUTE

CHAPTER VI

AS Kent turned to her in the sudden stopping of the car, something familiar rolled over the seat and into April's lap.

"Why, Nip," she choked, "what-ever are you doing here?"

What Nip was doing right then was barking, a snappy bark of protest because he'd been aroused from a nap in the rumble seat.

Kent began to laugh. It

BEVIDERE MAY QUIT

There's a rumor running around the basketball circles of Northern Illinois that Belvidere may quit the North Central conference. No official confirmation of this fact has been made, but don't be too surprised if it happens. The reason given is that the city is not well situated geographically to compete with teams at such a distance. Long trips for the Boone county teams are those to Sterling, Princeton and Mendota. It seems strange that it took a bad year in basketball to uncover those many miles.

OFF TO MADISON

Athletic Director and Mrs. A. C. Bowers, son Don, and Clarence Kelly, Bill Shultz and Bill Witzleb were scheduled to leave early this morning for Madison, Wis., where they will attend the important Western Conference basketball game tonight between Illinois and the pace-setting Badgers. All tickets for the game have been sold out.

OASIS

Belvidere cagers, on the road to Sterling last night, stopped off here for supper at one of the local restaurants. A Dixon fan who spotted them, gave them a pep talk, hoping that they could take Sterling and move Dixon into the championship. But Sterling has a better team, and it didn't work.

COMIC VALENTINE

Oscar Witzleb should take comfort from the announcement that he's not the only good bowler who has slipped. Last night one of the lads scheduled to roll in the American Bowling Congress at St. Paul in April took a spill. He started out with a Dutch 200 game and then flopped to 106 before picking himself up for a 206 count. Walt Klein can furnish you with the details.

SHAPE OF THINGS TO COME

Only the three games of next Friday night remain to wind up the North Central conference season. Dixon goes to Belvidere, Sterling to Mendota and DeKalb to Princeton. You can just about figure the final standings of the circuit right now and it certainly looks as if the Sterling and Dixon team will wind up in a dead heat. If they don't, the surprise is likely to shake the daylight out of all of us.

WHERE THEY STAND

Prophetstown, Dixon's opponent in the opening of the regional basketball tournament, last night defeated Tampico, 65 to 21, which you must admit is impressive. The Prophets have now won six of seven games for second place in the standings of the two Rivers conference. Eric leads with seven straight victories.

BOWLING TAKES A SOCIAL TURN

The Splitters bowling team of Sublette have planned an original means of providing new bowling balls for the alleys in the Sublette Community building. A masquerade dancing party is to be held at the Community building Tuesday evening and the proceeds will be used in purchasing new bowling balls. Billy Kobusch's ten-piece band has been secured to provide music for the evening and the public is invited to patronize the event.

FROM WHERE WE SAT

During the time out periods of the Dixon-DeKalb game last night we were able to spot the Dixon fans in the crowd and among those we saw were: Ed Witzleb, John Shultz, Ted and Harold Dockery, Rae Arnold, John Mensch, Ray Holland, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Miller, Richard Callahan, Warren Zimmerman, Ken Barnhart, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bowers and B. J. Frazier.

DIXON KEGGLERS LOSE SPECIAL MATCH

At Sterling they are saying of Ed Worley and William Nixon, two local kegglers, "They won't be back." The Dixon pinner challenged Lawrence McFall and A. G. Bendwald of Sterling for a special match there on Jan. 16. A prize of $20 was offered. The Sterling tandem won by a score of 3822 to 3732 and on Thursday night of this week the Dixon boys returned for another match with a prize of $40. The locals declared that if they didn't win the second match, they would call it quits. Well, they didn't win and after the smoke cleared away the hosts had won by a total score of 3752 to 3655. Worley shot 1845 for an average of 184.5 and Nixon's total was 1810 for a 181 average. McFall's record 47 strikes, picked up 43 spares, had nine splits and 11 errors. Nixon had 42 strikes, picked 41 spares, had nine splits and 15 errors. Worley had 39 strikes, 48 spares, 13 splits and five errors. Bendwald had 35 strikes, picked 56 spares, had eight splits and five errors.

ROUTE 72 GAME POSTPONED

The Byron-Stillman Valley Route 72 conference game scheduled for last night was postponed and will be played later. No date has been announced.

FREEPORT IS DEFEATED

Freeport, Dixon's last foe of the regular season, last night lost to Joliet, 34 to 29, in a Big Eight conference game at Joliet. The winners scored 22 points in the final half (11 of them in the last quarter while holding the Pretzels to a free throw) while Freeport scored 12 points in the last two periods. High scorer of the game was Peterson of the winners with 13 points. Pinnow and Belle each made eight points for the Freeport team. The Pretzels won the preliminary game by a score of 33 to 32.

GAME POSTPONED

The Oregon-Stockton game scheduled for last night was postponed and will be played Tuesday night, February 25 at Oregon.

POLO WINS SIXTH CONFERENCE TILT

Polo's Marcos won their sixth of 11 Rock River conference games last night when they routed Morrison, 42 to 31, on the home hardwood.

Waters and Holby of the winning team shared in the scoring honors with 16 points each while D. Shuman led the losers with eight points.

The hosts counted a 15 to 11 lead at the end of the first period and led, 23 to 15 at halftime.

Polo has only one more conference game and that is with the pace-setting Hawks at Oregon next Friday night.

In the preliminary games the Morrison reserves won their contest, 23 to 20, and the Polo freshmen won, 33 to 19.

Lee High School Wins An Easy Victory Over Creston

Lee high school's cagers, champions of the recent Meridian conference tournament, toyed with Creston last night and clicked for a 54 to 12 victory on the home court.

The winners scored only a 6 to 2 lead in the first period, but outscored the visitors badly in the remaining cantos and even held them scoreless in the third.

Lee was paced by Richardson who chalked up 10 field goals and one free throw for 21 points.

The host graders won the preliminary game, beating Creston 27 to 15.

For the Ashton Aces, undefeated champions of the Route 72 conference, there have been several close calls this season and one of them was last night in a hard-fought battle with Franklin Grove which the Aces finally took 46 to 40.

The valiant Grovers put up a persistent fight against their traditional rival on the Ace's own court, but a team which has won ten straight conference games was too much for them. The visitors counted a 13 to 8 lead over the champions in the first period and managed to hold the lead by one point, 20 to 19, at the half.

In the third period the Mitchellmen again outscored the Aces, 10 to 6, to hold the lead with a 30 to 25 count, but a fourth quarter rally of 21 points by Ashton put the game on ice for the hosts. The defeat dropped the Grovers out of second place in the circuit to a tie with Monroe Center for third.

High scorer of the game was Lee, Franklin Grove forward, who counted seven buckets and four charity shots for 18 points. Ed Calhoun led the winners with seven field goals and two free throws for 16 points.

The undefeated Ashton lightweight, also champions of their divisions of the conference, won their game, 27 to 10, and the Ashton graders made it unanimous with a 28 to 9 triumph.

PRINCETON WINS TILT AT MENDOTA

Princeton's Tigers took over third place in the standings of the North Central conference last night when they gnawed the Mendota cagers, 41 to 32, on the losers' court.

Although the two teams matched point for point in the second and third periods, it was the opening and closing cantos which counted victory for the Princeton boys.

They scored an 11 to 6 lead in the beginning and outscored the hosts, 14 to 10, in the windup.

Sponder, current North Central conference scoring leader, was high point man of the game as chalked up 14 points for Mendota on six field goals and two free throws.

Swan, Princeton center, led his mates with 13 tallies on five buckets and three charity shots.

Princeton won the sophomore game, 24 to 18.

CHURCH NEWS

These are days of selective draft, when the most fit young men are being selected and sent away to army camps to be trained against the day when they may be needed to fight the enemies of America.

There are many thinking people who believe that a greater potential enemy to our free institutions lies in the gradual, complete secularization of our American life—the losing out of our consciousness of the principle of religion.

We know that the idea of political freedom has gone hand-in-hand with the spread of Christianity, and the rise again of tyranny has been invariably accompanied by the decadence of religion.

Because the church leaders of Rochelle are alive to these dangers, another selective service is now going on. Some 120 men from all of the churches are being selected to go out on a coming Sunday to try to arouse the entire neighborhood to the danger of this dire neglect of the religious principle in the life of the community.

It may not be news that the churches are trying to get people to go to church, but it is news when 120 busy laymen of all churches go out together on a simultaneous campaign such as the one now in progress.

Presbyterian Church News

Remember, it is now at 9:45 for the adult and intermediate departments and 11:00 o'clock for the primary. One mother expressed great pleasure at being able to bring her two little ones to Sunday school while she came to church.

The Men's club members are planning a dinner meeting for the near future to which will be invited the men from the other churches who are to go out on the church attendance drive.

Do not forget the worship service at 11 o'clock. Fine music and a helpful sermon.

Hill Bros. Newspaper Advertising Campaign Hailed as Outstanding

New York—The advertising for Hill Bros. Coffee, Inc., of San Francisco, was recognized as the "most outstanding national newspaper campaign" in the United States during 1940 at the Annual Advertising and Selling Awards dinner at the Waldorf Astoria here Thursday night.

In token of the recognition, a gold medal was presented to N. W. Ayer & Son Inc., for eighteen years the Hill Bros. advertising agency, by the awards jury, which included nationally prominent men and women in the field of advertising. The medal-winning campaign was conceived and produced in the agency's San Francisco office under the direction of Byron MacFadyen, copy chief, and Tom Collard, art director.

The Hill Bros. advertising was selected by the jury from among campaigns submitted in behalf of various advertisers in all parts of the United States. The awards are sponsored annually by Advertising and Selling, a publication in the advertising field, and are the highest recognition accorded in the advertising industry.

Hill Bros. Coffee, Inc. has been a persistent and regular user of newspaper advertising for two decades. In the prize winning 1940 campaign, some 400 newspapers were used to carry nearly 4,000,000 lines of Hill Bros. advertising.

The campaign used well known appeals of appetite and taste, and stressed, as well, the ease, but need of care in preparation. The advertisements featured housewives' testimonials, "good coffee" discourses by famous magicians, and panel layouts suggesting correct methods of preparing flavorful coffee.

Long before railroads adopted the "Stop-Look-Listen" crossing sign post the Illinois legislature required a danger signal to be placed at highway crossings.

The assembly in 1844, according to the Illinois Writers' Project, W. P. A., provided that no railroad project should be started until boards were erected at each "highway or turnpike" on which should be printed in capital letters at least nine inches in length this legend: Railroad Crossing—Look Out for the Engine while the Bell Rings.
